Thanks for all this information. Can't say that I remember many of the names, let alone the faces. Another country?

As I mentioned, I'll be in the UK at that time. I may attach a flier that tells why I am going there!

Picture of Alan Barker: After retirement, he went to teach at Michaelhouse, and I used to visit them there, when I was in Natal.

Earlier this year, some of us celebrated in London our 60th anniversary! What is all this talk about growing old?

When you are next in Jhb, please contact me.

Best wishes. David

The Tyndale Society

Seventeenth Annual

Lambeth Tyndale Lecture

Tuesday 25th October 2011, 6pm-8pm

At Lambeth Palace, London

to be given by:

Professor David Lewis-Williams

Professor Emeritus of Cognitive Archaeology
University of Witwatersrand, South Africa

*"What is religion?
...an archaeological answer"*

Professor David Lewis-Williams has spent his whole life studying human prehistory, especially the transition period between Neanderthals and Homo Sapiens. He has discovered evidence of spiritual beliefs and practices thousands of years before Biblical times.

Lecture to be followed as usual by a Reception in the Palace

Optional dinner afterwards
at: Mint Hotel, Westminster,
(30 John Islip St., SW1P 4DD)

TICKETS: Lecture and Reception: £12

Dinner: £25

Tickets available in advance from The Tyndale Society
